Sheila,

Not sure how we got to discharging the water at Sunnyside rather than Zillah. Did you discuss it with the Zillah WWTP? Or Brent? We are thinking that since the people here are already willing to let us use their facility for storage of the water that it would be much easier if we could discuss discharging there since we are here and can talk with them directly. Also not clear why the pH has to be a lab method since that is usually less accurate than the field method due to changes over the sampling and holding times.

Sorry to bother you when you are on leave but today we are not drilling as mentioned on last message and we are having call with driller later to iron out the changes needed.

I am at the Zillah Comfort Inn, room phone or EPA cell
